Staff and management

Rooibaard Construction has a management structure which ensures administrative accountability and exceptional client service.

Continual in-service training is provided by outside specialists to all management staff. This relates to labour relations and law, new AARTO acts, and to changes in construction and customs law.

In addition, on the job training is given to all our customs clerks, thereby ensuring that custom documentation is of the highest standard, and that checks and balances are in place to prevent unnecessary delays at border posts.

Administrative control is exceptionally important to us, and functions at the highest level possible. This is to ensure quick and efficient invoicing of clients, which means that customs documentation is rapidly returned to clients for tax purposes.
